2. Name of the company having the most significant influence on the listed company from among parent companies and the reason

Company name	Reason
SoftBank Corp.	Because SoftBank Corp. is a core operating company for the Japanese business of the SoftBank Group and has a direct impact on the Company.

3. The position of the Company in the corporate group of the controlling companies, etc., and other relationships between the Company and the controlling companies, etc.

SoftBank Group is currently engaged in various businesses, which include its Investment Business of Holding Companies, SoftBank Vision Funds, SoftBank, Arm, Latin America Funds and Other segments. SoftBank, which operates in the Group's Softbank segment, provides telecoms services in Japan. Meanwhile, SBGJ is an intermediary holding company. As the core ICT service provider of SoftBank Corp. and other groups companies, the Company operates the ICT Service Business, which is based on the cloud technology cultivated over the years. The Company advances IT support (Corporate IT) to enable companies to concentrate on their core businesses, and Business IT to strengthen the competitiveness of companies through cutting-edge technologies such as AI and IoT. Through these initiatives, the Company can grow significantly with customers and co-create new businesses that can be applied globally.

SoftBank Group, SBGJ and SoftBank are the parent companies, which own 53.0% of the voting rights of the Company, as mentioned above, and are in a position to influence management decisions through their exercise of rights as majority shareholders. However, SoftBank Group's management policies emphasize the independence of its subsidiaries, aim to create synergies and continue to evolve and grow together while ensuring independence. As a result, the Group will maximize its corporate value. Based on this policy, the Company assumes management responsibility and conducts business management based on its own decisions, and believes that independence and autonomy are ensured to a certain extent.

Two employees of SoftBank have been appointed as directors of the Company. The status of the concurrent duties of officers is as follows.
